

Leadership

Leadership and firm overview for Ascenda Enterprise Capital LLC, founded and led by Izaiah Cottle.

Ascenda Enterprise Capital LLC is a founder-led investment and research company. Izaiah Cottle serves as Founder, CEO and Owner and directs AEC's research and strategic development.

Izaiah Cottle - Founder, CEO & Owner.

Ascenda Enterprise Capital LLC is founder-led. Izaiah Cottle directs the firm's quantitative research development, strategic initiatives and relationship development across the firm's areas of focus.

The firm's current work includes proprietary quantitative infrastructure through AECQS, public-market research, real estate opportunity development, private-market evaluation and longer-duration research initiatives.

One firm. Multiple research and opportunity channels.

Quantitative Markets

AEC develops and evaluates systematic strategy families through research, testing, execution modeling and risk controls.

Real Estate

AEC evaluates acquisitions and strategic structures including joint ventures, co-investments and operating relationships where mandates align.

Private Markets

Private equity and strategic opportunities are evaluated individually based on structure, counterparties, economics and applicable requirements.

Research & Development

AEC maintains founder-led research interests beyond markets, including long-duration scientific and pharmaceutical research themes.

Research claims are classified by evidence.

AEC's public materials distinguish historical simulation and development checkpoints from actual executed records. AECQS research figures are not represented as audited live investment performance, and any future transaction, offering or advisory relationship would require separate legal, regulatory and counterparty analysis.