

Izaiah Cottle

Izaiah Cottle is the Founder, CEO and Owner of Ascenda Enterprise Capital LLC, focused on quantitative research, systematic markets, private equity and real estate.

Founder, CEO and Owner of Ascenda Enterprise Capital LLC. Quantitative research, systematic markets, private equity, real estate and founder-led development.

Founder-led investment and research development.

Izaiah Cottle is the Founder, CEO and Owner of Ascenda Enterprise Capital LLC. His work centers on proprietary systematic finance and quantitative research, with broader business and research interests spanning private equity, real estate, and long-duration research initiatives.

Within AEC, Cottle leads the development of AECQS - the firm's quantitative research, analysis, portfolio-risk and execution architecture - and directs the firm's broader research, strategic relationship and opportunity-development efforts.

AEC separates historical backtest and simulated research from actual executed records and does not present simulated research outputs as audited investor returns or live fund performance.

Research, markets and private opportunities.

Quantitative Research

Systematic strategy development across market structure, statistical behavior, liquidity, order flow, volatility, momentum, mean reversion and multi-timeframe information.

AECQS

Founder-led development of Ascenda Enterprise Capital's proprietary multi-strategy quantitative research and risk architecture.

Private Equity

Evaluation of private-market opportunities, strategic relationships and long-horizon ownership situations on a transaction-specific basis.

Real Estate

Research and opportunity development around acquisitions, joint ventures, co-investments and operating partnerships.

Research authored by Izaiah Cottle.

View the dedicated research index for market commentary and AEC research notes attributed to Izaiah Cottle.