PART I — TRADING: THE THREE-LAYER FRAMEWORK

Layer I — Momentum Engine

Multi-timeframe momentum analysis. Only trade in the direction of dominant flow, confirmed across at least two timeframes.

Layer II — Z-Score Standard Deviation

Statistical deviation analysis measuring how far price has moved from its recent mean — filters out chasing overextended moves.

Layer III — DOM & Order Flow

Reading the order book directly — bid/ask imbalance, large resting orders, absorption, exhaustion. Where entries get precise.

PART II — REAL ESTATE WHOLESALING

Wholesaling means getting a property under contract at a favorable price, then assigning that contract to a buyer (an investor or rehabber) for a fee — you never actually purchase the property yourself. This is the core strategy behind AEC's real estate affiliate, One House One Story Investments (OHOS).

The Core Process

1. Find the Deal

Distressed, vacant, or motivated-seller properties — preforeclosure, inherited/probate, absentee owners, code violations. Skip tracing and direct outreach are the primary sourcing methods.

2. Run the Numbers

Pull the After Repair Value (ARV) from real comps, estimate repair costs, and apply the 70% Rule: $\text{Max Offer} = (\text{ARV} \times 0.70) - \text{Repair Costs}$. This is the same formula used across every OHOS deal.

3. Get It Under Contract

Negotiate directly with the seller and sign a purchase agreement, typically with an assignment clause that allows you to transfer your rights in the contract.

4. Build Your Buyer List

Real, active cash buyers and investors with a known buy box (price range, property type, target areas) — the faster you can match a deal to the right buyer, the faster you close.

5. Assign the Contract

Sell your contract position to a buyer for an assignment fee — typically the spread between your contract price and what the buyer is willing to pay.

The 70% Rule — Worked Example

ARV: $270,000 · Estimated repairs: $50,000

$\text{Max Offer} = ($270,000 \times 0.70) - $50,000 = $189,000 - $50,000 = $139,000$

Where to Look for Deals

- ☐ Preforeclosure and tax delinquency filings (public county records)
- ☐ Probate and inherited property records
- ☐ Absentee owner / out-of-state owner lists
- ☐ Code violation and vacant property notices
- ☐ Direct mail and skip-traced outreach to distressed owners

PART III — PRIVATE EQUITY FUNDAMENTALS

AEC's private equity approach centers on high-conviction stakes in operating companies — taking an ownership position in a real business, not just trading a public stock. This section covers the core mechanics of how private equity deals actually work.

Deal Sourcing

Finding companies to invest in — through direct outreach, broker relationships, industry networks, or proprietary deal flow built from personal relationships. Off-market deals (not run through a formal auction process) typically offer better pricing.

Due Diligence

Verifying the business is what it claims to be before committing capital: financial statement review, customer concentration analysis, management team evaluation, legal/regulatory review, and market position assessment.

Valuation

Common approaches include comparable company analysis (what similar businesses have sold for), discounted cash flow (projecting future cash flows and valuing them in today's dollars), and asset-based valuation for asset-heavy businesses.

Deal Structure

How the investment is actually made — majority buyout (full control), minority growth investment (partial stake, founder retains control), or structured deals combining debt and equity.

Value Creation

The actual work after the deal closes — operational improvements, add-on acquisitions, management upgrades, cost reduction, and revenue growth initiatives. This is where returns are actually made, not just at the entry price.

Exit Strategy

How capital eventually gets returned — sale to a strategic buyer, sale to another PE firm, or an IPO. Exit planning starts at acquisition, not years later.

A NOTE ON AEC'S PE STAGE

AEC's private equity vertical is early-stage — this section teaches the fundamentals and framework, not a proven, active AEC PE track record. Treat this as foundational education to prepare you for when real deal flow develops, not a description of deals already closed.

PART IV — VERIFIED LENDER NETWORK

Real estate wholesaling and any buy-and-hold or fix-and-flip strategy typically requires access to fast, flexible capital — hard money and private lending. Below are real, verified lenders active in the Georgia/Atlanta market, confirmed as legitimate operating companies.

Lender	Details
Fairview Commercial Lending	fairviewlending.com — Sandy Springs, GA. Hard money, private money, and bridge loans for GA investors.
BridgeWell Capital	bridgewellcapital.com — Atlanta-based. Closes in as little as 10 days, statewide GA coverage.
Georgia Private Loans	Atlanta-headquartered direct lender. Underwriting in as little as 24 hours, 2-day closings. Loan range $20K–$5M.
Capital Fund 1	capitalfund1.com · 678-470-3415 · 3350 Riverwood Pkwy SE, STE 2218, Atlanta, GA 30339. No public email — apply via apply.capitalfund1.com.
Ridge Street Capital	ridgestreetcap.com — Lower minimum ($55,000). Covers submarkets outside core Atlanta (Gwinnett, Augusta, Columbus).
Easy Street Capital	easystreetcap.com — Statewide GA coverage, fix & flip up to 93% LTC, 48-hour closings.

Current Market Benchmarks (Georgia, 2026)

Average Rate (APR)	~10.1% – 10.2%
Average Origination Fee	~3.2 points
Average LTV	~64%
Average Loan Size	$312,500 – $517,756

How to Vet Any Lender

- ☐ Confirm company name, state registration, and license number independently before applying
- ☐ A real lender never asks for application or processing fees before funding is disbursed
- ☐ Confirm rates against current market benchmarks above — anything far below market is a red flag
- ☐ Ask for at least one verifiable past-client reference

A NOTE ON RISK

Everything in this program builds judgment, not guarantees. All trading involves substantial risk of loss, including total loss of account balance. Real estate wholesaling carries contract and market risk — deals can fall through, buyers can walk away, and ARV estimates can be wrong. Private equity investments are illiquid and carry substantial risk of loss including total loss of capital. Lender rates and terms listed above are current as of 2026 and subject to change — always confirm directly with the lender.
